The jungle. It holds surprises and disappointments. Animal instinct keeps its creatures alive. High school is similar to a jungle. Though the prey may vary, the hunt is the same. Our exploration keeps us moving from the tops of trees to the bottoms of the darkest pits. Yet we struggle to remain and come out a winner.

"Survival of the Fittest" is the rule of the jungle and the adventures prove it. In athletics, we push our bodies and minds in order to overcome rather than succumb. This strategy is also applied to academics. In this region of the jungle, determination and keenness of the mind are major factors in escaping pitfalls.

So the senior class of 1987 exits this jungle to enter an even larger one. Confidence and composure are the only devices these great explorers need. Though the journey will be tough and vigorous, they will conquer the fear that arises on graduation day, like they did four years ago when they were amateur hunters.

Preparing for the journey, we put on our pith helmets, khaki shorts and load the elephant gun. Excited yet nervous, we bravely step forward and hop into the jeep. The ominous jungle is waiting for us and the adventure is inside. The exploration, sometimes frightening, sometimes exhilirating, isn't so bad after all. So let the search begin!

Memories Set The Sky Ablaze

"Memories . . . Forever Yours", the theme of the 1986 Buena Park Homecoming, started off literally with a bang. The fireworks were shot up after the announcement of the Queen, Jamie Larkin. The senior princesses were Denise Duncan and Cyndi Smith. Melissa Lux was the junior attendant, Cindy Maitland sophomore attendant, and Ha Dang freshman attendant. For the second consecutive year there was a homecoming king; Reggie Torres had this honor.

The court was chauffeured to the stage in 1987 Volkswagen Cabriolets, driven by volunteers, courtesy of Campbell motors. Pro Spectacular supplied the fireworks display and the leadership class of the school made all of this possible.

Homecoming week had it's traditional walk, assembly, and pep rally. As a change this year, the dance was held in the PAC. Balloons adorned the tables, the D.J. played his music, and a feeling of fun filled the air, making it a most memorable night.

Leading The Way

Leadership class trudged through the early morning duty of trying to make 1986-87 the best year in B.P.H.S. history. Although this class met very early, every morning,and seemed to go unnoticed, they acomplished a lot of good for B.P.H.S. Leadership class is composed of represenitives from a variery of groups and clubs, including A.S.B., Pep Squad, and Spirit Club.

Leadership kept busy organizing a variety of events. They arranged a specracular Homecoming, a successful Spirit Week, and several smashing dances, including the innovation of holding dances in the P.A.C.

B.P.H.S has always had a leadership class but only in the last eleven years has it been lead by Mrs.Shirley Gatling. Before 1975, Leadership class was predominately for the A.S.B. cabinet only. But in the last two years, Leadership class has grown in attendance so that now, anyone who is interested in the affairs of B.P.H.S. may join the class.

Adventurous Year Captured

The search for adventure is what every student experiences. To capture the adventure is what every excellent yearbook staff suceeds in doing.

A team of nineteen students worked everyday to bring the school year together in a truthful way, including the ups and downs. Leading the safari were Adviser Teresa Linehan, Editor-in-Chief Alison Quirion, and Assistant Editor Michele Reed. Under their guidance and hours of devotion the unexperienced staff members learned the technique of making a yearbook while the returning staff adapted to the changes in having score boxes, and other changes in style.

Thanks to overtime work parties and concentrated effort, Safari 86-87 was completed. A vigorous attempt was made to include all aspects of the school year. Deadline tensions and new staff confusions were challenged and overcome. Working together, the annual staff combined their knowledge and creativity to make an outstanding book!

Paw Prints Writes It Off

Leadership skills, communication skills, business skills, and organization are all talents which are perfected by each member of the Paw Prints staff. The twenty-eight year old paper has proved to be a challenge, but also a fun experience. As co-editor Eileen Dickman said, "Although the deadlines sometimes make you want to go crazy, it's really a lot of fun!"

There have also been many changes on the Paw Prints staff this past year. First, seniors Corey Eubanks and Eileen Dickman are sharing the responsibilities of editor. Eubanks commented, "Sometimes it is hard to boss around your friends, but you have to if you want to get things done." The co-editorship worked out very well despite the fact that the two editors had to share a desk.

Another change was the resignation of Mr. Jack Orme. He was replaced by Ms. Martinez. Mr. Orme felt that the paper needed "new blood." Although new blood might not be the best expression, Ms. Martinez did shed a new light on the development of each issue. She, along with the rest of the staff, has kept the periodical from being a newsletter; they have presented current events (on and off campus), opinions, and reviews in a very professional, positive way.

Seniors On Film

Who were those students who ran around peeking in classrooms with movie cameras? Those were members of the 1986-87 movie production class. The students filmed events of the school year. They filmed seniors that participated in sporting events, plays, dance production and much, much more. The class was mainly composed of graduating seniors who worked hard all year on "Senior Film 87". This film captured memories that the students will cherish forever.

The 86-87 Movie Production group was under the leadership of Mr. John Hufferd. Hufferd greatly assisted the class in several ways. He spent many hours of personal time to help make the film. Also, he showed a caring attitude for each student.

The officers that were selected by fellow class members were: Presidents Tiffany Dixon and Cyndi Smith, Vice Presidents Jill Dunn and Jason Reynolds, Secretaries Christine Mathews and Michele Reed, and Treasurers Shane Holmes and Nikki Reid. With much effort put forth from the class officers and dedication from each class member, the movie production class had another successful year.

SIP, Clearing the Path for the Future

If you had been in the conference room after school every two weeks, you would have noticed something. You would have noticed that the School Site Council was meeting. The School Site Council is part of a statewide program dubbed, the School Improvement Plan. Mr. Bremer commented, "It is an honor for our school to be chosen to participate in SIP."

SIP has made many decisions and done many things for Buena Park High School. They've allocated $120,000 throughout the school, and evaluated various programs on campus to determine who needed funds. They also decided how to present different legislature to the student body. For example, when the law prohibiting students from smoking on campus was passed, SIP interviewed smokers and nonsmokers to better understand the opinions of both.

Among the cabinet was Chairperson Dennis Giffen; Vice-Chairperson Gary Peebles; and Secretary Corey Eubanks. Mr. Bremer usually presided over the meetings, accepting contributions from the group. The School Improvement Plan has proved to be a worthwhile cause for our school.

Throughout the year, the Parent Teacher Student Association has been somewhat busy, though their activity has not been publicized. The organization's purpose was to encourage communication between parents, teachers, and students, and to assist the student body as a whole.

Within the school year, the stag dances of the past were ommit- Skeeter Zeppo. The money brought in by the bingo was put into a scholarship fund and awarded to deserving students at the conclusion of the year. Acting president was Mrs. Giffen; first vice president was Ellen Saunders; second vice president was Connie Noblett. Jean Tummel performed the duty of secretary, while Nancy Acone kept track of the organization's financial situation. Also attending board meetings was Sandra Dominguez, student congress representative.

Proud Members Show Excellence

One of the proudest groups at BPHS is the California Scholarship Federation, a club that is only open to students with excellent grades. CSF provides some beneficial experiences to members of the community.

During the year, CSF provided many activities such as canned food drives, Toys for Tots, the Winter Dance, Distinguished Scholars Night, and Senior Scholarships. The highlights of the CSF year were field trips to USC and the Los Angeles Museum of Science and Industry during early Spring. In late spring, the group gathered memories for the future with a delightful trip to Magic Mountain.

With so many successful activities that are involved in CSF, the 1986-87 school year shall be remembered as a proud and exciting year for CSF members.

Decathletes Compete on a Different Level

What kind of student would get up early in the morning to go to class that starts at 7:00 A.M? If they are the competetive type, they would. That's what Academic Decathalon is all about — competition. Students in the program take approximately two months to prepare for the actual competition. The competition does not involve muscle power but is based on brain power. Students compete against other schools in the areas of mathematics, science, social science, economics, grammar/literature, fine arts and essay writing. Besides these tests, each competitor must give a three to four minute prepared speech on any subject they desire, an impromptu and an interview. At the end of all these tests and speeches , members compete in a Super Quiz. This year's Super Quiz was based on The Constitution.

"Buena Park High School did fairly well this year but they certainly can improve. The more involvement, the better possibility we have for improvement," commented adviser Hal Dixon. The other advisor is Myra Philpott. Both advisers wish to encourage more students to participate on next years' Academic Decathalon team.

Still Climbing To Success

The Speech Club proved that hard work does pay off. Originally ranked #7 at the beginning of the year, after only a semester, the team pulled up one notch to #6 in the Orange County/East L.A. division of the National Forensic League. Thanks go to Mr. Hufferd's coaching.

With competitions on Saturdays, the speech club devoted much of their free time to perfecting the winning speeches. The competitions lasted all day on Saturday, and there were many different divisions in the competitions, each person specializing in certain categories.

Club officers included President Tracy Summers, Vice President Susana Garcia, Secretary Heather Boyd, and Treasurer Sheldon Ogata. They also have captains. The Captain of Speech is Tracy Summers, the Captain of Debate is Brent North, and the Captain of Mock Trial is Heather Boyd.

Buena Park won two first place Sweepstakes trophies in debate, one second place Sweepstakes trophy in the Individual Events and one second place at the Cal State Fullerton debates.

According to Heather Boyd, anyone can be in speech club, even shy people. It helps build up their character and it's also a good experience to be around people. It also teaches where and when not to talk.

Students Support Society

When a student searches for involvement where does one go? One tries to broaden horizons or open new doors, but sometimes the doors are locked. In the Key Club, new doors are opened all the time. It is a club that attempts to inspire by interacting in and around the community. The only requirement to join is that one must be willing to have fun while providing a service through the club to the community.

Because the group lacked members, the year got off to a slow start. However, by the end of October, the club had more than 15 members who began to plan the exciting events for the year.

They started off by helping the Kiwanis Club serve up stacks of hot cakes and sausages at the Silverado Days Annual Pancake Breakfast. Then, as New Year's Eve drew near, members rolled out of bed at the crack of dawn and piled into cars to go to Pasadena and help decorate the Kiwanis Club International Float for the Rose Parade.

They also planned other events such as working at blood drives and going to visit a convalescent home for elderly people.

As President Julie Mally said, "This is one club that knows where they are going and will never be a let down to the community."

Science Club Explores the World Beyond

What a world of wonder lies beyond the classroom walls. Not many students get an opportunity to learn about our world by experience. However, thanks to the Science Club, students have been able to participate in the world of science all around us. The club provides opportunities for students to experience science and not just study it in a book. "I can think of no better place than the out-of-doors to use as a classroom for the Natural Sciences," exclaims Mr.Gary Peebles.

They attempt to take one field trip a month, usually on a weekend, to minimize the time away from school but maximize the time spent outdoors. Most of the trips are campouts but not all of them.

The trips included such places as the San Onofre Nuclear Power Plant, a whale watch and the annual extended outing which took place at Morro Bay in March.

Mr. Peebles explained, "I personally feel that the outdoor experience should be a part of a young person's education." To enforce this idea, no one is restricted due to lack of funds. There are many money making programs and a scholarship fund in the club to help such students.

Although the enrollment is high, the club always welcomes new members. Advised by Mr. Peebles and Mr.John Marson, the Science Club has become considerably successful and will remain for an interminimable amount of time.

Skiers Get Late Start

Late snow prevented the Ski Club from getting an early start but they made up for lost time. They went to Salt Lake City, Mammoth, Big Bear, Gold Mine, Snow Valley, and Durango.

The club officers, Eileen Dickman, president; David Thibedeau, vice president; and Rhett Binger, secretary/treasurer kept the club active with informational as well as fun meetings. They planned trips, reviewed safety, conditioning, and equipment. Now for the fun part . . . they watched ski movies, ate pizza on occasion, and gave out door prizes. Chess Strives For Fun

Fun was a major goal of this years Chess Club, and it seems as though they achieved it. Meeting every day, these junior chess enthusiasts improved all three aspects of their game, the opening, the mid-game and the endgame. They were led by Mr. Tinkle, a 20 year coach of chess.

For the past eight years they have been Orange County champions. This year they went for their ninth consecutive title. They were led by Harry Wang, Hoon Kim, and Andy Risner.

French Culture for the Savages

French Club broke new club ground thanks to good advisers like Ana Nghiem and Crystal Phillips. The French Club made their third year the best they could. This young, aspiring and determined club accomplished raising money for a nice budget through fundraisers such as selling "Le Pops" (gourmet lolly pops) and french pastries.

The club was lead by President Jorge Velasquez, Vice President Jenifer Sullivan, SecretaryJulia Butler, and Treasurer Chy Yam. This club held many meetings and had several cultural experiences. One of the most outstanding cultural experiences was a picnic at Fullerton College's French Day.

Korean Club Contributes to School Spirit

Under the guidance of adviser Mr. Kahkonen, the Korean Club had another successful year. The Korean Club was originally formed to benefit both the community and the students by introducing and sharing the Korean culture. The club welcomed everyone regardless of his or her nationality.

There were many activities the Korean Club had throughout the year. During back to school night, the members devoted themselves to services such as decorating the classrooms, assisting the parents with directions, preparing desserts in the cafeteria, etc. Showing their concern for the foreign students, they attended an ESL faculty meeting to offer suggestions on teaching English as a second language. On Teacher's Day, they presented flowers to all faculty as a sign of appreciation. Everything went extremely well with the exception of the popular fund raiser, the famous egg roll sale. This was the main source of funding for the club scholarship and an effective way to display Korean culture. Unfortunately, it was canceled by the school board, who said the club was competing with the cafeteria's business.

Work and no play could have made the Korean group a dull club. So, to escape the heat and the pressure of school, on a sizzling day, the club took a field trip to Bolsa Chica beach to enjoy the California weather.

All activities were carefully engineered in the headquarters, room #127, by President Sei Park, Vice President Chang Lee, and Treasurer Young Kim. With all the fun and excitement in Korean Club, many members are looking forward to another magnificent year.

Coyotes Raise Cash Crop

Future Farmers of America, better known as the FFA, was originally formed to create future agricultural leaders among high school students. The sole requirement for being a member of this club is that the student must take agriculture as one of his or her classes during the school year.

As part of the student's commitment, the students were responsible for feeding, grooming, washing, and cleaning the living area of the the sheep, pigs, steers, and chickens. This meant coming to the class before school, at lunch, after school and on weekends.

During the school year, the members were involved in various types of agricultural activities. They competed in the judging contests of Orange County, Southern California as well as the state. In May, two members, who were sent to the FFA state convention, brought back legislative information which concerned the FFA. By exhibiting their animals at the local junior highs and elementary schools, the members displayed their animals and introduced the FFA organization to younger children. As the Orange County Fair and Los Angeles Fair approached, the students prepared their animals for the auction. Animals were judged based on their conformation and place in its class. If a blue ribbon was received by an animal, the owner had a opportunity to enter it in the auction.

The FFA gives students the opportunity to taste the experiences in agricultural areas. Its purpose to educate and entertain students throughout the school year was definitely accomplished.

Actors Go Wild

Memorizing lines, blocking positions on stage, learning stage language, and studying performances are a few of the responsibilities that must be met by members of the drama class before they are able to step on stage and brave the crowd.

Led by Director Joe Parrish, the Coyote players performed such plays as "Story Theater" by Paul Sills and "The Odd Couple" by Neil Simon. Aided by Parrish, for the first time, a student took over directing duties. Larry Vincent directed "Barefoot in the Park," another Neil Simon play.

A highlight of the year was drama's participation in the Southern California Drama and Fine Arts Association competition. They were judged on their performance of "Story Theater."

Next year, Drama I classes are looking forward to the direction of Mr. Cormier, who was a student teacher this year and will become a permanent faculty member in the fall of 1987.

Singing Their Hearts Out

With much enthusiasm and confidence the choir performed for the community and for their own enjoyment. They sang for groups such as the Braille Institute, Adult Special Education at Cypress College, and at the Buena Park High School faculty breakfast. In addition, choir was very excited about singing at the Orange County Performing Arts Center, since they were one out of twelve choirs picked to sing there. To be chosen for the Arts Center performance, choir chose to sing challenging selections which were more difficult than they were used to. Mr.Todd Oishisaid, "Choir is finally gaining recognition from other areas of the county."

This year choir also hosted a Spring Concert and on May 14, a Choir Festival. In the later part of April, they went to San Francisco with the Marching Coyotes.

To make the choir more organized, they formed a cabinet. Chosen were: Choir PresidentCarolyn Scudder, Vice President Mike Tadlock, Secretary Carol Zyla, Treasurer Lisa Myers, and Librarian Ryza Robinson. This was a year full of achievement and success for the choir.

Dancing With Pizazz

One of the most dedicated classes on campus was the dance production class. Being a member of this class required choreographing dances, participating in fundraisers, making costumes, and practicing for hours.

The class was made up of two seniors, twelve juniors, six sophomores, and thirteen freshmen.

"All the girls worked well together, and it showed in each performance," according to Junior Nicole Toleman. The girls performed at Silverado Days, Maple Elementary, Gilbert Elementary, Fairwood Manor, and Junior High Orientation.

The girls put much effort into each performance and it shone through. "Each performance was excellent as well as entertaining," according to Jeanne Yew.

The main goal of this class was to put on a great annual Spring Concert. They worked hard all year for this event and it showed when they presented "Pizazz".

The class was under the leadership of Sally Thompson. Ms. Thompson greatly assisted the class in several ways. She stood by the girls throughout the year. She helped out with fundraisers, dances, and was always there for the girls. Along by her side was Dance Manager Jana Jenkins. Jana stated, "I've had a great four years and I owe Ms. Thompson a lot."

Home Ec. Club Stirs Excitement

Cooking the latest gourmet recipe or sewing the latest fashions weren't the only interests of members of the Home Economics Club. The group got together once every week for social and service activities. Members visited the Gordon Lane senior citizen's home where they gave residents crafts and goodies. They planned a project with the Children's Hospital in the spring. Finally, a show was presented at a pep-rally to display the latest formal fashions for prom.

The group consisted of students who were taking home economics courses or were interested in the club. Their cabinet consisted of: President Nora Reid, Vice President Jackie Whitehead, Treasurer Mike Ferreira, and Secretary Angie Owens. With the help of adviser Mrs. Tayenaka this group was a very active community club.

Preschoolers Learn to be Lil' Coyotes

Two new Lil' Coyotes explore their territory.

The Coyotes one might see in room 83 are a special little group of B.P.H.S. students. They belong to the Little Coyote Preschool run by the child development classes. This year, children between the ages of three and five met on Tuesday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. for twelve weeks.

Just like big Coyotes, the Lil' Coyotes had to follow a schedule. It went as follows: freeplay, clean-up, story time, P.E., music, snack, crafts, and finally, preparing to leave for their homes. Out of this hectic schedule, they learned to have respect for the rights of others, self-confidence, independence, to share, and to enjoy being with children their own age. It also prepared them for elementary school with such things as colors, numbers, and the alphabet, according to Mrs. Bressler, the teacher of the class.

It also was a learning experience for the high school students, as they planned and presented lessons to the children. They met to evaluate their activities and make adjustments for the following week. In the future, Mrs. Bressler said the experience will help the students feel at ease working with younger children and understand them, and perhaps the students may even select a carrer in the field of childcare.

'90 Turns Toga

The Freshman class of '90 chose their pep weeks theme "toga."

This was a first attempt at pep week for the class of '90. The attempt was a good one. Freshmen got together, dressed up in sheets wrapped toga style and showed much spirit.

During the pep rally, they had a chariot race which consisted of two students from each class. This was an enjoyable moment for not only the Freshman class but also the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes because they all took part in the rally.

The Freshman didn't win anything during pep weeks, but they could be complimented for the good job they did in decorating and cleaning up the gym. With such an attempt from the class of '90 it seems obvious they will be back for more next year.

Sophomores Claim Their Territory

The class of '89 danced into pep week with a shout, shriek, and some tribal lore. Pow-Wow '89 was a truly enthusiastic endeavor of spirit and pride.

The sophomores staked their claim on campus with colorful posters everywhere anyone looked. Also, a great percentage of class members displayed their unity by wearing Indian clothing.

The highlight of the day, though, was the highly amusing pep-rally. Posing as Chief Story-teller was Erwin Masinsin. He magically related to his tribe the myth of Studwater Sophomore and Hiawatha. Christopher Molloy and Cindy Maitland played the honored rolls. As Masinsin narrated, Molloy and other sophomores, with Mr. Schacrer, playing the part of the senior competitor, compered for the hand of Hiawatha. The competition included everything from spear-chucking to toilet paper rolling races; and of course, Studwater Sophomore won every competition and the hand and companionship of Hiawatha.

Overall, everyone involved had a wonderful time, and the day was very skillfully organized. The spirited class of '89 shared the Courtesy Award with the senior class. It appears that this unified, spirited class has a bright future.

Move Out Flintstones, Bedrock Has Juniors!

Yabba dabba doo! That was the cry of the class of '88. At Bedrock High School, Buena Park, all the teenage Pebbles and Bam-Bams exploded from their caves to relive the Stone Age. One could practically smell the Brontosaurus burgers in the air while walking through the campus covered with cave drawings and cave topped hills. For the juniors "'88 B.C." theme, the only thing missing were dinosaurs and foot-powered cars.

The adventure began at 5:30 a.m. when the juniors decorated the school for the day to come. Immediately following, breakfast at Denny's brought this creative group together for a meal. All plans were made final before the juniors returned to school to refresh everyone's memories of the history of man.

Though the class of '88 did not receive any awards, their pep rally was considered entertaining. It included the discovery of fire and the making of the wheel. In the quest for fire, all but the junior class failed at their attempts. While the other classes worshipped the sun or the trees or rubbed sticks together, the juniors used their Bic lighters as a quick, simple way to attain fire. Also in the rally, each class showed their creation of the wheel which included a triangle, square, and a semi-circle. The class of '88 outdid them all with their creation of a true wheel.

The cavepeople had a lot of fun dressing up and sharing their spirit with the rest of the students and the faculty. The class of '88 was a big part of the movement to put enthusiasm back into school.

'87 Goes To Heaven

The Class of '87 staged an excellent and enthusiastic pep rally which helped them clinch the pep rally competition. It left a definite impression on the students and the faculty.

Following a tradition, the seniors started their day before dawn decorating the Senior Quad according to their theme, "Heaven In '87." The quad became known as, "The Stairway to Heaven", decorated with balloons tied around the trunks of trees, a web of toilet tissue, streamers laced through nearby trees, and posters hung throughout the campus. Two white gates stood at the entrance of the quad representing the gates of heaven.

Senior day began with a class breakfast at Baker's Square. When break arrived, energy began to flow as Shane Smith portrayed Moses and parted the Red Sea. They played the song "Edge of Heaven" by Wham which echoed across the campus. The seniors danced and cheered around the quad showing their enthusiasm and spirit of pep week.

Finally, lunch arrived and the gym filled up with the faculty and the underclassmen. The rally got underway when Rhett Binger announced "God created a more perfect race - the SENIORS." All of the seniors ran in and cheered their way to the bleachers.

The awesome Seniors swept up all of the awards including best pep rally, most enthusiastic, most spirited, and the best cheerleaders. Their great organization and unity was definitely the key to their success.

New Club Officers Free Tutoring Services

A new club on campus offered free tutoring for students who had problems with their math classes. Besides helping the student body with arithmetic algebra, and geometry problems, Math Club members also promoted math.

One of the goals of the Math Club was to hold a fundraiser whose profits would be used for a scholarship and field trips that encourage interest in math.

"This is the first time such as a club has been esrablished, and it's very exciting to see it grow and develop," commenred Crystal Phillips, club adviser.

Another purpose of the club was to promote involvement of studenrs who planned to participate in math competitions held during the spring and fall at Occidental College and Orange Coast College. With the help of Mrs. Phillips and increasing participarion from student body, the math club will continue to grow and expand their services.

NHA Discovers Cultural Heritages

"The National Heritage Association was founded to establish a learning situation in which the members could reach a better understanding of the cultural differences and similarities of students at Buena Park High," commented adviser Mike Johnson. Individuals learned information, not only about others members cultures and ancestors but often something new about their own cultures and customs as well.

Buena Park has many types of people with a wide varity of cultures and customs. Recent Buena Park High School statistics indicared that 58% of students on campus are white and 42% are of other ethnic races. The NHA members, with their wide range of backgrounds, represent the world in our small community. "In today's society it is good for students to know things about their true heritage so they can have a positive self-identity. In doing so, the association also helps them to get a good sense of self-esteem so they can feel good about themselves and others as well," commented Debbie Bellony, president of the association.

The members of the NHA will continue to grow rich in their knowledge about their fellow members customs and cultures as this association establishes an awareness of Buena Park's own melting pot.

Enthusiasm Emblazed By Spirit Club

There was no taming the Spirit Club as they bounded through the year determined to raise the Coyotes' level of enthusiasm. The club members clawed their way through fundraisers, selling such items as pompoms and garters which Coyotes could use at sporting events to show their spirit. However, President Monica Davis said, "No profit was made from the sales. We sold the items to students at cost."

Along with the fundraisers, the club members also took on establishing certain Fridays as green and white days. The students and staff were encouraged to wear the school colors on these days and awards were given to the third period class that had the best showing.

The club hopes to continue building school spirit in future years through similar activities and increasing student involvement in the club.

Senior Class Captures Unity

The Senior Class has had many great achievements, unforgettable memories, and a special unity throughout the school year. Their cabinet consisted of: President Reggie Torres, Vice-President Rodney Sandoval, Secretary Tiffany Dixon, Treasurer Trang Dang, and Class Representative Pam Long. The senior officers were assisted by class advisors Rochelle Lubin and Gary Roswell.

These people organized many successful fund raiser activities, such as: candy sales, a car wash, and a game booth at Silverado Days. The participation from the senior class was outstanding and greatly appreciated. They made over $2,000, according to class Treasurer Trang Dang. The money was spent wisely on things such as: color pictures in the yearbook, and a plaque observing the 30th year of education at BPHS.

President Reggie Torres stated, "The seniors are doing a great job of upholding school traditions. We do our best to respect others as well as earning respect from others." The Seniors have set their goals and met them.

Underclassmen

Juniors Get Busy

Prom. The one thing the junior class puts their efforts into and the class of '88 was no exception. To produce a prom that was better than the preceding year, drastic measures were needed. Lack of funds were a main point of importance as the class frantically worked at fundraisers throughout the year. Some of these activities included Halloween grams and candy sales.

Another problem the class faced was lack of support from fellow juniors. Only a handful showed up at the class meetings. Despite the setbacks, there were a surprising amount of juniors who involved themselves during Pep Week. This encouraged and prompted the junior class to maintain their class spirit in order to make prom successful.

Excuses, Excuses

The following are a few of the best responses given by Buena Park juniors for some of life's little every day problems.
What is your best excuse for:

1. Coming into class late?
1. My last period class teacher let us out late.
2. My locker was jammed.
2. For not turning in your homework?
1. Had a game last night and didn't have time to do it.
2. I didn't understand it.
3. Coming home late?
1. The coach made me stay at the gym late to work out more.
2. Ran out of gas.
4. For breaking a date?
1. Got in trouble and my parents wouldn't let me go out.
2. Something suddenly came up.
5. For not going to work?
1. Someone in the family died and I have to go to their funeral.
2. I didn't feel good.

Juniors Await Seniority

A sampling of juniors were asked about what they would look forward to the most during their senior year at Buena Park High School. Because 1987-88 will be their senior year, the class wants it to be the best year. When questioned about what they looked forward to, many answered the following:

1. Improving school leadership.
2. Getting more respect from underclassmen.
3. Graduating.
4. Going to Senior Prom.
5. Sitting on Senior Quad.
6. Enjoying off-campus life.
7. Winning pep rallies and pep week.

As the senior class walks off the graduation field, the junior class truly seems to look forward to a successful reign as seniors.

Exploring The Unseen

Student's Band Searches For Success

Morgan Roach is a junior whose impulsiveness and outgoing attitude brought him to form the band The Unseen.

Together for a year and a half, members of The Unseen include Roach and Robert Trujillo, a Buena Park High School graduate. Others have played with the band on a temporary basis. Though The Unseen have not come in contact with any record companies, the band has been pitching their songs to Trend Music Group with confidence. Hopeful, Morgan believes, "It just takes time."

Morgan uses a complex system of components to bring his music to life. His system is comprised of Roland TR-707 drum machines, an MSQ-100 sequencer, a Clarion high speed 4-track, and an Ibanez digital delay. Also, bass and horns are supplied by his Yamaha DX-21 synthesizer, but his main synth is his Roland JX-8P.

Starting Morgan's early interest in music was the Sears, Roebuck piano department. Explains Morgan, "I saw the piano and said, 'That's for me!' " Howard Jones is Morgan's greatest influence on his music. Other influences include Thomas Dolby, Chic Corea, Depeche Mode, Oingo Boingo, and the Untouchables.

With a brightly lit future ahead, The Unseen's goal is to get a five year contract and make loads of money. Morgan's personal goal is, "To make it 'Big Time' and throw the biggest party for everybody once I make it!"

The sophomores definitely show promise in the spirit and enthusiasm section. They have had many successful fundraisers. The money was used for many things the class needed.

Mrs. Allinson, the class adviser, has a group of individuals that are willing to work and pull together to form a great class.

Brenda Vitali, the class president, says, "We have plans for making next year's prom the best the school has ever had."

The competition for this class has been the infamous seniors. Although the sophomores gave them a run for their money during Pep Week, they were beaten by the seniors. Next year will be exciting as they begin to show their stuff!

Sophomores Gear Up For Driver's Ed.

Imagine yourself behind the wheel for the first time. You grip the wheel so tightly that your knuckles turn white. Moving your hand shakily to the gear shift, you put it in drive . . .

Usually taken in the sophomore year, Driver's Education is anticipated by all students. The class of 1989 is no exception.

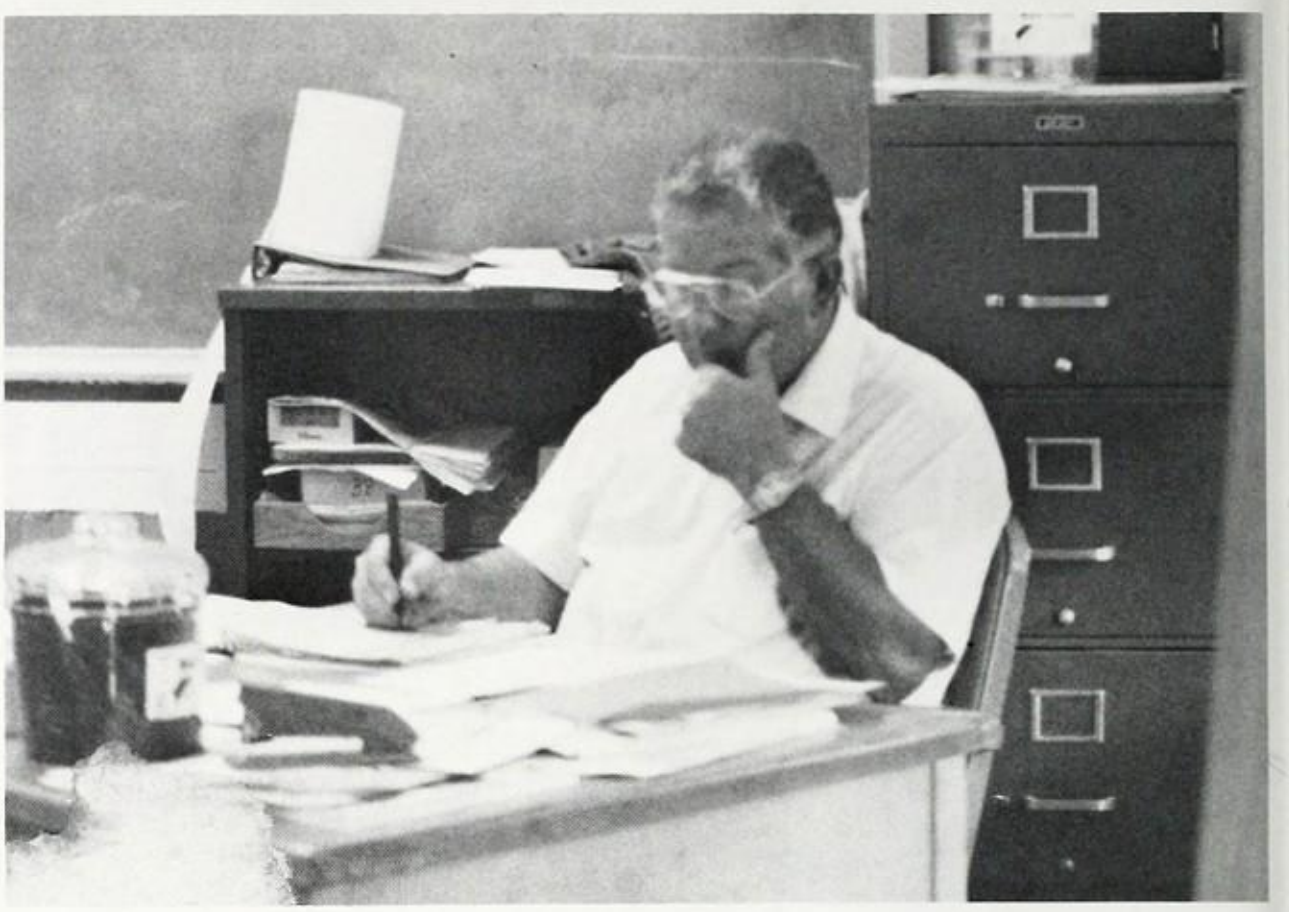
Once they passed the required stages of driver's education, simulators, and behind the wheel training, they were geared up for control.

Driver's education involves highlighting the teen driving manual, book work, films, discussion, and many rigorous tests of knowledge. They go over the rules, safety tips, and precautions of driving. The films, seemingly a favorite among the boys, show the gory effects of breaking traffic laws. According to a Los Coyotes survey, completed by more than 75 sophomores, most students like this part of the course because it's easy. The class of 1989, however, realizes the importance of knowing the rules and obeying them. They know that driving is not a game, it's a privilege, a privilege they would all like to have.

When they're ready, they advance to simulator training. For three days, sophomores go through many driving simulations. They are put in a "driver's seat" and asked to react to various situations. According to the survey, some of this year's sophomores felt that it was an ineffective way of training, but most valued the help offered.

In behind the wheel training, one finally experiences real driving. For three days, three students ride and drive together with an instructor. The instructor has a brake and gas pedal to control the car if need be. The survey shows that for most, the first time is a frightening experience. Nervousness prevails over confidence. But, by the end of the first day, students are comfortable with their instructor. And by the third day, all nervousness is gone. After three days of mistakes, near accidents, and even some maneuvers that weren't half bad, the student is ready to get his permit.

After passing these courses, many still are not confident about their driving. Confidence is an important part of driving. However, overconfidence can get a person killed. Overconfidence may cause one to be negligent and careless. This carelessness and negligence may lead to an accident, perhaps a fatal one.



Driver's Education teacher. Mr. Craven, ponders over test results.

What Was Your First Driving Experience Like?

Kenny Daugherty: "I was real scared. I got real tense, but Mr. Worthy (instructor) helped me to feel more relaxed."

Mark Naylor: "When I drove, it was felt like I had already done it before. It was easy."

From Dreams To Reality-Sophomore Poll

When asked what kind of car they would like to have, these sophomores replied:

Rudy Alvarez - '85 Monte Carlo
Rickey Benitez - lowered truck
Amy Blake - Suzuki Samurai or a 4X4 mini truck
Dorca Bota - Chevrolet Nova
John Brimer - '67 Camaro
Mary Burns - Bronco

Stay Off The Road

One of the highlights of becoming a sophomore is taking the drivers education class. Before having the privilege of driving, one needs to go through a process of taking a drivers ed. class, experiencing simulators, and behind the wheel. Sophomores not only get overly excited by this, but they are also very nervous. "I felt nervous, I thought I was going to faint" was a quote from Nykkie Bouasry, a sophomore whom received her license at the beginning of this school year.

In October we took a class poll asking freshmen what would be the highlight of becoming a sophomore. The ratio was 7-10 to take the drivers education class. Though most students receive their license as a junior, sophomores gets a thrill by the thought of driving.

Runner Leaps Ahead

A sophomore who often stands out in a crowd is runner Antonio Sanchez. Sanchez started running at the age of 9. Sanchez says his father got him involved in running. Watching his father run helped inspire him to try it. Antonio mentions that he received a large amount of support from his family.

Sanchez's first win was during his fifth grade year in a race at Irvine Park. His first high school win was at Mammoth. His most important win was at Birmingham High School. There he defeated the national champion for the 13-14 year old age group. At Birmingham he also broke the record for the 3,000 merer run. His time was 9 minutes and 11 seconds.

At school, his favorite subject is math. He enjoys math because it is challenging. Sanchez's favorite teacher is Mr. Rick Foley. When aked why, Sanchez said, "Because he is a good friend and teacher."

Sanchez's future goal is to win the Olympic gold medal. With a lot of support and demanding training, Sanchez hopes his goal can be fulfilled in the 1992 summer Olympic games.

Sophomore Antonio Sanchez runs for the gold.

Striving For More

The class of '90 proved to be a new generation that participated in a lot of new experiences. For instance, the freshmen were the first to go on a fieldtrip to the Musuem of Science and Industry and the Museum of National History.

The freshmen were also concerned with establishing a positive reputation. They were very well aware of the reputation of last year's freshmen class, who won Pep Week. "Our goal for the year is to live up to the value and reputation of last year's freshmen class," commented Freshmen President Tony Cloyd. The cabinet worked hard to get everyone involved in the school activities, especially Pep Week.

Tony Cloyd has Sax Appeal

Tony Cloyd is a very successful freshman and has proved so through the activities he was involved in this past year. Cloyd's first love is playing the saxophone. He was encouraged to play saxophone in elementary school, and he has been playing for five years. Most of his performances have been with school bands in parades, competitions, and field shows. In junior high this aspiring musician joined a "soft punk" band called A.K.A. A.K.A. entered a talent show and placed fourth.

Cloyd's main musical concentration has been participating in the Buena Park Marching Coyotes Band. He was also involved in an effort to begin a jazz band at BPHS. Eventually he wants to become a successful rock star. He says that if he does accomplish this goal, he always wants to have a positive message in his music and to share with people his strong belief that his talent is a gift from God.

Challenging the Forces of Nature

Lonnie Malone's safari takes him to the desert where he challenges himself and nature. Malone's favorite past time is desert riding. Desert riding is a fast sweeping sport where people ride motorcycles, four wheelers, or three wheelers in the desert over the sand dunes.

Malone said he enjoys the speed and the power he feels when riding. He has been riding for five years and likes to go with the whole family on twice a month outings to Giant Rock and White Waters.

Malone likes to compete with his cousins but says safety should always be first priority. Simple precautions such as wearing gloves, a helmet, and elbow and knee pads (incorporated in a special riding suit) can prevent major injuries. Malone's last word on safety is to never ride alone. But if all is taken seriously and done right, desert riding can be a real exhilerating, fun sport.

Lonnie Malone spends time riding.

Sharing New Experiences

With support from the Fullerton Union High School District and the School Improvement Program (SIP), approximately 400 of Buena Park's world history students had the opportunity to visit and observe some of the outstanding exhibits at The Museum of National History and The Museum of Science and Industry in Los Angeles.

On November 11, 1986, students toured seven different exhibits at The Science and Industry Museum, including space, math, aviation, bicycle, economics and communication. They also toured the exhibit of wheels and media at The Museum of National History.

Students and teachers got a chance to experiment with the simulation car and a very unique computer that lets you own your own bicycle factory. "It's fun and it was better than being in school for the day," explained freshman Josie Lam.

Students and teachers also discovered a lot of information ranging from the ancient history of the Egytians to the future of modern space. Class president Tony Cloyd commented, "It was very interesting and I learned a lot of new things that I never had known before."

Special thanks goes to Mrs.Debbie Allinson-who organized the field trip and parents and staff of Buena Park High who helped supervise.

You've Come A Long Way!

Miss Claudine Casey is one of the two teachers who has been at Buena Park High School since its opening in 1956. Because she has been here for 30 years, Casey has witnessed the campus and students go through many changes. For instance, Casey said that students now have a variety of classes and fashion trends to choose from. She also added that a meaningful change occurred in 1976, when CIF incorporated girls sports.

Before arriving at BPHS, Casey attended UC Santa Barbara where she earned her B.S. degree. At the University of Colorado, Boulder, she earned her M.S. degree.

Since her first year, Casey has taught P.E. and coached badminton to the Coyotes, enjoying the outdoors and the physical activity it requires. She explained that her happiest moment as a coach occurred in 1983, when the badminton team beat Sunny Hills and took the league championship. She is not only a sports minded person but is also concerned for the students. She reminds them, "Anybody can set their goals for what they want to be, but respect must come with it."

It's A Jungle Out There!!!

After crawling out of the steamy depths of Troy High School,and the treacherous tangles of the district office, Mrs. Sue Naeve was rewarded with a position at the friendly, relaxed campus of Buena Park. Happily married and mother of one, she said she was glad to be here.

The California native had never envisioned herself as an assistant principal but as a history professor. She even earned a degree in history. Being an assistant principal, she has had many responsibilities such as sophomore and senior counselling, all computer data processing, career and state testing, and evaluating teachers and certain progams. She generally made sure everything in the attendance office ran smoothly.

The new administrator said she would like to see improvement in many areas. Higher test scores and more academic and sports honors are some of her goals for the future of Buena Park High School.

New Frontiers

BPHS was the base camp for several student teachers exploring the jungle of the classroom. Two of these teachers were Mr. Todd Myatt, who attended Biola University for his bachelor's degree in P.E., and Mr. David Nazaar, writer, business consultant and university instructor.

As teachers new to the high school, they had the ability to bring refreshing ideas and enthusiasm to a classroom.

Myatt said that his work in P.E. and yearbook was "really satisfying." The best part was "the friendships I built up with both teachers and students." Nazaar also liked working with the students in his social science classes. He said "I help them learn and I learn from them."

While most times go well for the rookie teachers, sometimes they do get some unpleasant surprises. Myatt explains that it can be disappointing working with students who don't care about life. While Nazaar said he wished he could get to know the students before implementing instruction.

With support from staff and students, these teachers are wished the best in their future endeavors.

Spirit

Superiority Shines Through

Long before the school year started, the six members of Varsity Yell were active. Last July, they began by attending the United Spirit Association camp at the University of Santa Barbara. At camp the girls worked many long hard hours and learned several routines. It all paid off when several Superior ribbons and a highly regarded spirit stick were brought home.

A new change in the Pep Squad this year was that instead of having eight cheerleaders per squad, there are now only six. It was a change that strengthened the squad as well as brought unity to the girls.

Varsity Yell showed much enthusiasm at each game and pep rally throughout the year. This squad consisted of Seniors Kari Penrod (Head), Michele Reed (Co-Head), Tina Eckels, Julie Parnis, Dana Ramberg, and Junior Nikki Reid. The girls grew close over this year and made many memories that will remain in their hearts for years to come.

Perfection Shown

Winning several superior ribbons was only the beginning for the 1986-87 Varsity Song squad. They captured the ribbons at the USA camp at the University of Santa Barbara, last July.

The new change of having only six songleaders on the squad strengthened Varsity Song, according to Co-Head Songleader Julie Schoales. With only six songleaders, the girls worked together well and there was much unity shown.

Varsity Song along with the other squads, participated in many fund raisers. The girls sold visors, had a car wash, and they also had a Christmas wrap booth. The money that was raised went toward uniforms and the end of the year banquet.

The girls also spent hours participating in school activities such as: painting posters, and cheering at games.

This year's Varsity Song consisted of Seniors, Jennifer Starr (Head), Juniors, Julie Schoales (Co-Head), Beth Higgins, Amie Oestrich, Danielle Sokol, and Nicole Toleman. Even though the squad was young, it did not show. The girls showed perfection in everything they did!

One Adventure Worth Working For

Exciting! Energetic! Hard working! Words like these were used to describe the 1986-87 J. V. Pep Squad. The goals of the squad were to present a good image of the school, prepare the cheerleaders to go on to varsity, and to promote school spirit. They promoted spirit by going to school functions, such as pep rallies and sporting events.

Being on the squad was no easy task, but this group of girls seemed to work hard and enjoy it. In order to be on the squad, they had to maintain their academic studies by holding a 2.25 grade point average, 20 units of credit each grading period, and five classes. Also, they had to be energetic, full of spirit, and very responsible.

The squad also had many fund raisers. They included such activities as car washes, selling visors and also pom-poms. The purpose of their fundraisers was to raise money for their banquet at the end of the year. They also used the funds for extra uniforms that were not in their budget. Although being on the squad was hard work, these girls probably will agree that it was one adventure worth undertaking.

Marching Coyotes Strive For Perfection

Treading on the other schools with their enthusiasm, the Marching Coyotes performed at many different events. Even in the most trying times, they always showed their support and devotion.

Under the command of Drum Major Chris Mitchell, Drill Team Captain Hena Contractor, and Flag Captains Lori Morris and Eddy Lu Peterson, the band and auxiliary strived for perfection. Performing at parades, field tournaments, and football games, they displayed their loyalty to their school.

The new addition to the Marching Coyotes was the Flag Team which has been inactive for three years. Under the new direction of Barbara Bressler, they have learned many new techniques. Another new addition was the Majorette Kim Holt. With her solo performances, she added a finishing touch to the group.

In the latter part of the year, the Marching Coyotes along with the choir, went to San Francisco to perform and enjoy time with the group.

The Marching Coyotes were and will continue to be, a major source of spirit and pride to the students and staff of Buena Park High School.

Varsity H2O Polo Dives Into CIF Again

Determination would be the word to describe this years waterpolo team. They were the best ever assembled at Buena Park. The team was ranked in CIF's top ten, ranging from third to sixth place, throughout the whole season. They ended up placing third in league standings. The players went to many tremendous tournaments, like the Canyon High School tournament where they took first place. They also took first place in the Villa Park High School tournament.

This past summer, the team went to the Hawaiian Invitational. The team played excellently, taking second place out of 37 high school teams. The team went to Hawaii with a positive attitude and came out winners.

The coaching was done by Head Coach Ted Clark, and Assistant Coach John Fischler, who guided the team to victory. They went to the first round of CIF but lost a close game of 6 to 7. Reggie Torres was unanimously voted player of the year. Many of the players were voted either first team All-League or second team All-League. The players who were voted first team All-League were Senior Rhett Binger and Junior Chris Foley. The players who were voted second team All-League were juniors Joe Standeford and Craig Garcia. The following were voted honorable mention: Senior Danny Walsh, and juniors Rafael Alarcan and Steve Rhee. Congratulations for a well played season!

Frosh/Soph Water Polo Creates High Tide

The outstanding playing of the frosh/soph water polo team proved that they are ready to take on any opponent any time. With ten returning sophomores and an abundant amount of freshmen, second year coach David Lankin describes this years team as the "best ever in Buena Park."

Many of the polo players can credit this year's successful season with many hours of dedicated practice. Practice usually started at 6 a.m. for 1 1/2 hours and continued with two hours of hard work after school. Sophomore shooter Kenny Daugherty said "without many of the workouts, our team would not have done as good."

This year's honors go to Shawn O'Neal for most improved, Brian Foley for most inspirational, and Yong Kim for most valuable.

The frosh/soph team ended this year's season with 24 wins and 4 losses. With many returning players and a large amount of freshmen, this year's team proved that they can carry on the tradition of playing outstanding water polo.

New Coach Brings Hope

Big hopes were brought to Buena Park when new coaches arrived with many young athletes and few returning players.

The team started working in May, 1985. Then summer came, but the team did not quit. They continued to practice.

When the season started, the team had come a long way. The first game was against Ranch Alamitos. The team had a great game, tying 7 to 7.

From then on, the team had a tough time. Even though they did not win any games, practices continued and when the season ended, a new weight training program was established to strengthen and prepare the team for next season.

The team had come together as a family and showed a healing pride for the team and school.

Thanks to the three coaches, Mike Barron, Rick Foley and Eric Carter, the team seems to have a great future ahead.

Special congratulations to Quentin Hoff, first team all league; and Joe Brown, Chris Olhausen and Mike Lord, second team all league.

Teamwork Lends To Successful Season

With good coaching and dedicated players, both the freshmen and J.V. teams had a great season. The freshmen team had an outstanding year, with a record of 4-4-2 and a league record of 3-2. The freshmen did great as a team, showing they could work together. They were very close to winning League, but they lost a close game and took second. Thanks to the coaches the team did very well.

The J.V. team did great with the help of new coach Jim Bobinski and returning coach Prentis Porter. The team met after school everyday to practice. The practices were hard, but the team held together when times were rough. Considering the team had few players, they did very well, with a league record of 2-3. Even though the team was small, the varsity coaches are looking forward to the coming year with great expectations. With many young athletes and new program, the school has a great future ahead.

Varsity Runs Up The Scores

A surge of energy coursed through the veins of the runners as they waited for the moment when they could let their energy flow. They knew that they were good, but one mistake and everything might have slipped through their fingers. Fortunately, this wasn't the case with our 1986 Varsity Cross Country team. With a second place finish in league, and their only loss to La Habra, that surge of energy was put into good use.

Strong and experienced, the boys lived up to the expectations of being winners that was established long ago. Their consistency proved to be a valuable asset. Returning varsity members made up the majority of the team, while the best of the junior varsity made up the rest of the team. Beginning at the end of the 1985-1986 school year, the team prepared for the upcoming season and ran throughout the summer. When school began, the team worked out in the morning, sixth period, and after school. Hard work and determination kept the group going and the results made it worth their while.

Consisting of seniors Sebastien Meler, Mario Martinez, and Alex Roda, juniors Marty Baratti and Gabriel Sanchez, and sophomores Antonio Sanchez and Jesus Ocana, the Varsity team made the fall season exciting for all sports fans. The coaching of Dan Hirsh and Ed Valenzuala guided the team to a winning season. It is evident that any of these boys would be proud to say they belong to the Buena Park High School Cross Country team.

Ending the season, honors went to Gabriel Sanchez for most valuable, Marty Baratti received most inspirational, and most improved went to Jesus Ocana. Team captians were Marty Baratti and Gabriel Sanchez. These two helped keep the team united through hardships and also motivated the team.

Speedy Coyotes Smash the Roadrunners

The junior varsity cross country team shone on the running field with a brilliant performance. They went to the League Finals without being defeated by any school, and no team even came close to tying with the Coyotes. As many expected, BPHS runners took first place in the League Finals.

Unfortunately for the freshmen / sophomore team, the start did not go as well. They lost the meet to Fullerton High. From then on, they worked with much dedication and determination to improve their skills. After hours of hill running and street racing, they improved both in strength and speed. During the season, a very close battle was fought against Sunny Hills; everyone performed vigorously and the teams tied. Later, at the League Finals, the Coyotes struck back to defeat their rival Sunny Hills to take third place. Coach Eddie Valenzuela added that the top two runners on the Frosh / Soph team, Chong Lee and Chris Pusey, had displayed high potential that qualified them as varsity runners. Therefore, he substituted them as the last two varsity runners. As substitutes they gained experience from CIF to be champions next year.

No doubt B.P. will be triumphant on the running field again.

Girls Dash To Finish Line

Even though the cross country girls improved greatly from last year, according to their coach Eddie Valenzuela, they didn't have a smashing season due to lack of runners. Seven runners are required to run for a race. BPHS had only four varsity girls participating. Three junior varsity girls were brought up to complete the team.

Better than last year, the cross country girls took fourth in league finals. Individually, there were some striking performances. Alexandra Sosa, with her record 20 minutes 19 seconds in 3 three miles, is ranked the top ten girls in the league. At the Orange County Dual Meet she finished in the top fifteen. The rest of the girls, freshmen and sophomores, also seem to be doing extremely well.

Most of the girls started practice during July. They went to a training camp for runners, at Mammoth, to gain some experience. Since then they have improved enormously. If they continue to improve the way they have this year, Coach Valenzuela said that there will be great success for the team next year.

Swinging Through Another Season

Setting realistic goals for the season, the 1986 Girls' Varsity Tennis team seemed very pleased with their overall achievements. After finally winning a game last season, the girls attempted to break their record. If they wanted to defeat La Habra as they did before, the girls knew hard work, determination, and positive attitudes were the keys to their success. Surprisingly enough, the team defeated La Habra with an astonishing score of 17 - 2. Still, the team realized that anything could happen the second time around. On the court, the girls used the same strength and determination from the first meeting and pulled off another victory.

In other matches, individual game scores and team scores were very close. Every opponent struggled to earn each point, battling some serious competition.

The Junior Varsity team suffered a disappointing season but came through with several pre-season victories. The most exciting match was the outcome against La Habra. After all the matches were played, the score was tied at nine sets each and game scores tied at 71 - 71. Because of defaults made by La Habra the victory was awarded to Buena Park.

Team unity was emphasized strongly by Coach Suzanne Elliott. The girls were often together, not only on but off the court. Enduring hard repetitive practices, the outcome was worth their time and energy. The only departure of Senior Kim Nguyen will result in a strong and experienced team for the '87 season. Others now realize that Buena Park is a force to be aware of.

Bumping, Setting, and Spiking Improves the Record

The Varsity Volleyball team had a frustrating season as they finished with a record of 2-8. However, they did have some tight matches. One of this year's highlights was when they won both matches against Sonora. As coach Jane Tyrrell put it, "We should've done a lot better, but we were a better team than the previous ones."

There were only nine members on the team, and all of them were returning players. These girls had tough practices and games, but they managed to struggle through both. Captains Cheryl Harada and Claire Standeford tried their best to lead their teammates to a prosperous season.

Their banquet was held at the Sizzler, where the following awards were presented: Most Valuable Player Claire Standeford; Most Inspirational Denise Duncan; and Most Improved Andrea Burrow.

Overall, Tyrrell's view of the season was: "I liked it a lot and I had a good time." She also adds that future players should "try to get on some summer teams."

Boys' Basketball Bounces Back

This year the basketball team was very young. Shane Smith was the only senior on the team. All agree that with such a young team, next year will be fantastic.

The team did very well in all of their tournaments, which included, Santa Ana, Santiago, and Fullerton. At the Fullerton tournament they placed third.

The five starters of the team were Gary Hunter, Shane Smith, Steve Lucas, Kevin Graddy, and Mike Toscano. The rest of the team included: Dave Baylor, Marty Baratti, Mark Romo, Jose Solis, and Peter Hong.

The team had an excellent comeback to end the season with class. Mr. Bell, their coach, has a great team to look forward to next year.

A Season Of Heartaches

The Freshmen/Sophomore Basketball team displayed an incredible amount of enthusiasm and grit throughout the basketball season. The team's record was not the best in the league, but every game was a close contest on the court. The last couple of years the Frosh/Soph team at Buena Park was sometimes considered a doormat for all the other teams in the league. This year the other teams in the league were saying, "Watch out for Buena Park! They have a gutsy team that never gives up."

The coach for the team was Mr.Todd Myatt. He stated, "This year's team was very enjoyable to coach. They all strived to be the best they could be and had excellent attitudes on and off the court. It was a pleasure to work with these fine athletes, no matter what the final season results."

Overall, the season was a success. The results were not always the best, but the heart and desire of the players made it all worthwhile.

Under the guidance of the new coach Andre Smith, the boys Junior Varsity Basketball team had an enthusiastic season.

The boys spent a lot of time practicing to play hard for four full periods of play. Coach Andre said, "They have a great drive to win with team effort. They strived hard on the court and scored high with zeal and effort."

The five starting players this year consisted of: Daniel Ko, Paul Matheson, Austine Arnold, Erwin Masinsin, and Joey Westbrook.

They finished the season out as a team working together with the same interests. The team worked hard and ended the season just right. The team shows great potential for future years at Buena Park High.

Big Five Plus One!

Winning the Fullerton Tip-Off Consolation, the Girls' Varsity Basketball team proved that this year they were more than ready than ever. "We have a good chance to compete for league championship," said new coach Mike Johnson. Coach Johnson has been coaching for 8 years. Five of those years were at St. Louis University. The main goal for the team is to execute well with intensity. " Intensity is that level of determination needed to cross any obstacles," commented Coach Johnson. To Coach Johnson the ingredients to be a good basketball player are to be academically successful, be industrious and have the desire to be the best. These ingredients are well mixed in the team.

With the help of new coach Sara Lewis, the Girls' J.V. Basketball team met the season with strength and the willingness to work in order to win. " The girls showed a tremendous amount of improvement, but they can't just be satisfied with just being okay," said Coach Lewis. This is Coach Lewis' first time coaching with the girls at Buena Park High. The team's improvement shone through when they defeated La Habra in their season's opening game. With a lot of determination and the willingness to give 110% at all time, the Girls' J.V. Basketball team was ready to face the obstacles they encountered. The team showed unity and a lot of potential for the years to come.

Strong Wrestlers Survive Season

The Varsity Wrestling team captured first place in the Freeway League, gaining back the title from Sunny Hills. The Orange County Register called them "the CIF surprise team of the year."

Led by Coach John Craven, the team strived for the best possible outcomes in each meet. Thumping some pre-season opponents by more than 40 points, the team went into league with high hopes of continuing their winning ways. When the wrestlers won four out of their five league matches, their hopes turned to reality and the league trophy came back to Buena Park.

Individuals in the various weight classes co-contributed to the team's success as follows: Senior John Arroyo, three time letterman and second in league; Sophomore Brian Bertrand, two time letterman; Junior Joey Brown, three time letterman and first in league; Junior Duane Duff, three time letterman and first in league; Senior Shane Holmes, three time letterman and first in league; Junior James Lape, two time letterman; Senior Richard McKone, two time letterman; Senior Kurt Osburn, three time letterman; Junior Sei Park; Junior Mike Reading, three time letterman and first for the second time in league; Senior Rodney Sandoval, two time letterman and first in league; Senior Robert Speno, four time letterman and second in league; Scott Vigil, three time letterman and first in league.

Varsity Wrestling has always been a power house sport at Buena Park and in the years to come, it should continue to be one. Coach Craven wishes the departing seniors the best and hopes for the best from the up and coming wrestlers.

J.V., Frosh/Soph Tumble To Top

Unstopable! Powerful! Herculean! These words come to mind when thinking of the J.V. and Frosh/Soph Wrestling team for 1986-87.

The team practiced every week day from 2:20 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. to prepare themselves for the tournaments that took place on Saturdays. The team is also very dedicated and this contributed immensely to their success.

According to Coach John Craven, "No win is more important than the other, all wins are important." Coach Craven had also stated that next year's varsity team, made up from the J.V. Frosh/Soph team, will be one of the best that this school has ever had.

The Varsity Soccer team showed improvement by winning two more games than last year. The best game was against Fullerton, where they showed their skill with a win of 3 to 2.

Through the season, according to Coach Behst Gonzo, Lonnie Legg, who played sweeper, helped the team the most.

Coach Gonzo said, "With the right program, the team could show a lot of promise." Coach Gonzo also said that he will be returning next year. Out of 18 students, Gonzo said that 16 are underclassmen but will not necessarily play. "I feel that next year we will have an even better season."

Kickers Practice Makes Progress

Four year's ago, BPHS incorporated girls soccer. Since then, Coach Ruth Ann Morris said, "The team has improved greatly. Some of the girls that came out 4 years ago didn't know how to play soccer." On this year's team, there are eight returning players and among those are Senior Captains: Denise Duncan, Elsa Gomez, and Claire Standeford.

For the first time in four consecutive years, the girls had some victories during their pre-season, in games against Anaheim 5-2; Jordan 3-0; and Western 2-1. With games consisting of two 40 minute halves, practice really paid off. No matter what kind of weather there was- rainy, windy, or sunny- they fought a great battle in each game.

Morris says, "The season could've been better if the team were more dedicated. It takes a while to build up skills and strategy." For the future Coyotes, "Be ready to dedicate yourselves and to work as a team."

Team work is second nature to the boys. Their days started off early in the morning and they stayed late into the evening. Senior Danny Walsh said," We pulled together and helped each other out to have a good season."

Their coach this year, Tim Spriggs, a.k.a. the "sharks," was a strong influence on them. He made workouts hard but it all payed off in the end.

Spriggs has some talented swimmers to look forward to next year. The Juniors were Rafael Alarcon, Craig Garcia, Steve Rhee, and Joe Standeford. The Sophomores were Chris Molloy, and David Orani.

Guppies Gain Respect

"The Frosh-Soph and J/V swimmers have the most potential I've ever seen at Buena Park. Some of these freshmen and sophomores have enough potential to letter this year," explained Coach Ted Clark.

The swimmers had to get up at 5:30 a.m. to be in the water by 6:12 a.m. and start their warmup. If the swimmers were not in the water by 6:12, they would not get to swim at all. They swam for 1 ½ hours in the morning and 2 ½ hours in the afternoon. In both workouts combined, they swam an average of 8,000 yards a day.

The team had a couple of important meets. The swimmers went to the Los Alamitos Relays, where only four of the frosh-soph swimmers received medals. The swimmers were: Sophomores Yong Kim, Kenny Daugherty, Brian Foley, and Freshman Sean O'Neil for the four by 50 Breastroke. The swimmers also went to the Sonora Invitational meet, where David Otani captured two medals. "Overall, all of the freshmen and sophomores worked real hard. You can tell they did in all of the swim meets," explained Kenny Daugherty.

The Fearless Fliers

Many goals were set by the diving team, even though this was a very different season of diving altogether. The team didn't have a coach to help them; that's why these three divers were so special. The divers helped each other and depended on each other for support. "Practicing without a coach is very difficult, because it is real hard for us to improve our dives," explained Robert Moen. The team consisted of three divers: Senior Robert Moen, Junior Janay Norton, and Sophomore Chris Molloy.

According to Norton, her toughest competition was Sunny Hills High School, and according to Moen, the boys' most challenging competition was Sonora High School. The divers had very high hopes for this season of diving, that is, placing in the top ten in League Finals. Practicing six to eight hours a week at Cerritos Olympic Swimming Center, they had enough time to work on their dives to achieve perfection. Molloy predicted, before the season began, that the diving team of 1987 would do very well.

Female Fish Find Frustration

The "lady fish" had a chance to improve the program and build it up for future years. The team was made up of all grade levels, but as an extra bonus, they had their own coach. David Lankin graduated in 1980 and came back because he said, "The girls haven't had a coach for the past three years and the numbers have dropped dramatically. I want to build the team back up."

According to Lankin, the backbone of the team seemed to be the seniors. They were Joell Scardina, Michelle Hawthorn, and Sandra Dominguez. These girls were dedicated and kept the team going through three coachless years.

"We were very supportive of each other and had a positive outlooks, even though we were so small," said Senior Joell Scardina.

The girls agreed that David Lankin was a great inspiration to them and was willing to take the time to help them. He said he would like to continue coaching the team as long as he is able to contribute to the program.

Due to David Lankins resignation, former swimmer, Kris Johnson finished out the season for the lady fish.

Smashing To A Winning Season

The Badminton team looked as if they would continue their winning ways at the start of the season. Because many of the other school's top teams lost their best players, the badminton team had a good chance of winning league and perhaps CIF.

The team worked hard during practice every day after school. They worked on strokes, footwork, and strategy. With these practice sessions, the team successfully won their matches against schools such as Kennedy, Garden Grove, Westminister, Founrain Valley and Cosra Mesa.

With the help of Coach Claudine Casey and Assistant Coaches Michelle Tafoya, Vitoon Fam and Tony Fam, the team had confidence to do very well and perhaps retain the BPHS tradition of going to CIF in Badminton.

JV Badminton Drives for Success

Success wasn't the only goal for the junior varsity team; gaining experience was also an aim. With only a few returning players from the previous year, the team consisted of many unexperienced newcomers. For this reason, Coach Claudine Casey and Assistant Coach Vitoon Vachirakornrong exerted much effort and energy to improve the player's badminton skills. Every day before the players worked on their game strategy, they exercised with many drills such as shadow, liners, and jumping rope. After that, the players competed and helped each other to improve their weaknesses. The practice usually lasted from two to five o'clock, but sometimes longer. As evidenced by their scores, after consistent training, the team improved enormously. As a result, the team obtained many successes.

During the first practice match against Costa Mesa, the players defeated their opponents easily with a score of 16 to 1. The team was on a roll until the game with Garden Grove; they lost 6 to 14. However, the team picked itself up again and continued on to win the rest of the practice games. With such a triumphant preseason, the junior varsity team looked forward to a victorious season.

Starting Off On The Right Foot

Varsity Track had much success and a great season.

With very few seniors on the team, the young athletes seemed to thrive on hard work and achieving goals. For instance, Kevin Graddy took part in sprinting events such as the 100 yard dash. On the other hand, long distance events were handled by winners including Gabriel Sanchez, Antonio Sanchez, and Marty Baratti; in field events, Lonnie Legg took part in both the triple and long jumps. Many of the players took on leadership roles and they pulled together for a real team effort. "Each person took more pride in themselves and in the team as the season continued," said Coach Rick Foley.

All the coaches felt the team was very strong for being as young as they were.

There was one change that came to the track team this season. The school had to eliminate pole vaulting because of the high insurance costs involved. But this change did not slow the team down in any way.

Organization Brings Victories

With many athletes and a great coaching staff, the Frosh-Soph track team had an outstanding season. The team came out victorious at many of their meets. These victories were not handed to the team. On the contrary, they were earned through tough practices and the dedication of the players.

This year was different from any other year. In the past, the teams were separated, girls with the girls coach and boys with the boys coach. This year, both teams were united as one. This change was for the better according to sophomore David Summers, because it brought better organization to the practices and everybody had the same coaches.

Good organization and superior coaching brought a great season to the Frosh-Soph track team.

Girls Track Darts to the Finish Line

The trackers got off to a strong start. Rhonda Oswald, their new coach, led the girls through two to three hours of practice workouts everyday to condition their bodies. She also had them take part in technical events, such as an 880 breakdown.

In track meets, each girl stood alone pitting their skills against the competition's. Oswald said that she expected the girls to be strongest in the sprint and distance running. In their practice meets, their expectations came true when they stampeded Western 100-27 and smashed Magnolia 105-22.

Oswald hoped that the team, twice the size of last year's, would improve in every meet and that there would be no injuries involved. Oswald also said she hoped the team would capture league.

Varsity Tennis Makes a Racquet

The Varsity tennis team has shown that inexperience can be what keeps a player from achieving success. However, inexperience hasn't stopped these boys from trying to do their best and in some cases, even winning a few games.

With mostly new players and only three veterans, the tennis players pulled together like a real team. The returning players were Senior Joey Brown, Junior James Brown, and Junior Ed Schultz. The new players were: Eric Baca, Reggie Cabasal, French foreign exchange student David Corbel, Adrian Krovacs, Jae Son, Javier Taylor, Steve Yamashito, and Andrew Yang. Coaching the team was Ken Bell.

"Senior Joey King is the backbone of the team" said Coach Ken Bell. According to Coach Ken Bell, the team is very inexperienced, but they are hard workers. There are a lot of good freshmen that came out, and next year's team should be able to come up with more wins.

Baseball Survives Another Season

The Varsity Baseball team started the season with high hopes. Even though the team had a rough pre-season, they hung together into league play. Unfortunately, they didn't fare much better in league, losing the regular season opener 20-0 to Troy. Still they regrouped and finished the season on a slightly better note, as the scores became closer and closer.

Under the direction of Coach Pinkham, this youthful group has a great future. Among those he noted are ace pitcher Dan Hardin, who helped limit the number of runs scored by the opposition, and third baseman Brent Roussello, who made dazzling defensive plays.

Strong Team Molded Through New Coach

Starting off the baseball season with an impressive pre-season victory over Santiago High School, the J.V. team's opening win was followed by some tight games against other league opponents. The team showed potential for an outstanding season.

They were led by many returning players and a new coach. Coach Will Capps was handed the responsibility of molding the J.V. team into contenders in the Freeway League. Coach Capps stated that for a successful season the players have to "hustle, put in a good effort and good thinking habits, not just on the field but in the classrooms." With these thoughts in mind, Coach Capps believed his team would have a "decent season."

Unlike past years, J.V. baseball team lead off with strong hitting and fielding. The top hitters according to Coach Capps were: Bill Romero, Matt Antoniou, Matt Acevedo, Kenny Burroughs and Jon Hargove.

Because of the help from a new coach and the spirit to win, the J.V. baseball season proved to be a big hit.

Varsity Girls Softball Strikes Again

Coach Debbie Allinson, a former UCLA softball player, did a great job in bringing the Coyotes to victory. The team was lead by exceptional players such as Julie Schoales, and Shannon Akau who are the first ASA National Champions. Another great honor for Julie Schoales was being selected as a Pan Am player representing the USA. The leading player in RBI's is Stephanie Seyller. The excellent catcher of the team was Felicia Benjamins.

In practice, the girls concentrated on offense, power hitting, and their speed. Their goals for the season were to finish first in league. Their primary competition was against Sunny Hills. They had high expectations of doing well in CIF as they played aggressively against several top ten ranked teams during the pre-season and Cypress Trounament. "They will achieve their goal by working hard in practice, being dedicated, committed and believing in ourselves and each other. We also have an excellant pitching staff in Allyson Tarman and Shannon Akau. Any fast pitch team is very fortunate to have pitchers of their caliber." said Coach Allinson.

J.V. Softball Aims High

The J.V. Softball team was a very well rounded team. The team did many things to improve both physically and psychologically. These things consisted of learning how to slide, going over reactions that should occur when in a certain situation, and going to the batting cages every once in a while to improve their hitting. Every day, the team practiced for two hours and some members would even stay 45 minutes longer to continue practicing.

Their social activities were going out for pizza and talking about things that might be troubling them.

Coach this year was Rhonda Mekin. Playing softball in high school, college, and other places gave her the experience to understand some of what a member of the team may go through. Experience also provided her with little techniques that can help solve some problems.

Playing this year was Marcy Boles, Carol Bright, Mary Garcia, Marrissa Gonzales, Rene Halacano, Tracy Larkin, Tami Level, Melissa Lopez, Cindy Mathews, Donna Mazzocco, Carol Schafer, April Spigelmire, Robyn Thorn, Denise Wyman, Tiffany Reid, and Shannon Cummins.

This year's team was very strong according to Coach Mekin. Not only was softball just a sport to have fun with, but it was a learning experience to help them know themselves a little bit more.

Another Round In CIF Competition

As soon as the first day of school started, five Buena Park sports teams practiced to reach a playoff spot in CIF. Five teams that made it to CIF competition were Varsity Cross Country, Water Polo, Basketball and Wrestling. Badminton was expected to reach CIF, according to many of the team members.

During the fall sports season, the Cross Country and the Water Polo teams entered CIF competition. The Cross Country team entered CIF for the 14th time. The team was lead by runners Gabriel Sanchez, Antonio Sanchez, Marty Baratti, and Jesus Ocana. Next to compete in CIF was the Water Polo team. The Water Polo team went for the 10th time. Coach Ted Clark's team was led by co-caprains Reggie Torres and Rhett Binger.

During the winter sports season, the Varsity Basketball and Wrestling teams qualified for CIF. Basketball entered CIF playoffs by defeating Sunny Hills and Fullerton High School in the Freeway League Tournament. Eight wrestlers entered CIF competition. The eight wrestlers were: Shawn Brass, Duane Duff, Scott Vigil, Rodney Sandoval, Mike Reading, Shane Holmes, Joe Brown, and Robert Speno.

During the spring sports season, the Varsity Badminton team was expected to go to CIF as predicted by many of its members. This year's team was lead by past participants Tu Le, Heather Hassinger, and Tonya VanDervort.

Because of their hard work and the many hours spent practicing, the five teams that entered CIF competition deserve to be honored for their accomplishment.

Shelley Ellsworth . . .

Shelley,

You have not only been the most wonderful daughter that a mother could have, you have also been my best friend for 18 years. Your dad and I are so proud of you. You were the best Christmas present I could have ever received.

As you grew older and became a teenager, you started dating guys and going to parties. Suddenly, I felt left out of your life. It was like I had lost my best friend. It was hard to separate the motherhood from the best friend relationship. When I felt I had lost the best friend relationship, I tried to turn on the motherhood relationship and that's when the arguments started. You accused me of not trusting you and treating you like a child, but it's because I care so much about you and deep down I know it's because I know I'm losing you. But, as I sit here writing this, I suddenly realize that your growing up doesn't mean I'm losing you at all, it just means we can be best friends again.

Shelley, I want you to know that your dad and I love you very much. We are so proud of you. You have made us proud by always standing up for what you believe in even if it meant being an outcast at times. I know sometimes it was very hard for you with your friends, but I could trust that you would make the right decisions and that you were never ashamed to express your beliefs. You were not a follower, by any means, and for that I'm so very proud of you Shelley.

CONGRATULATIONS SHELLEY!

Love, Mom and Dad

P.S. Uncle John says he's proud too. P.P.S. I'm thankful that Buena Park High School gave me the opportunity to let my daughter know how proud we are of her on this special day. Thanks again BP.

Best Wishes

Editor's Message

Now that the book is complete, I ask myself, "Was it really worth it?" Trying to answer this question brings to mind all the stress, pressure, anger, and confusion that went around in my head all year long. But there was also a good side filled with laughter, sharing, and friendships.

I wasn't the only person to pull off making this book. My staff was great and I'd like to thank them for doing an outstanding job. At first I had my doubts, and at the second deadline, and at the third, but they managed to get their acts together when it counted. I would like to thank my returning staff for putting up with all the changes this year and bearing with me, especially Michele Reed for all the boring hours we pulled pages. Thanks go to Todd Myatt and all the staffers who finally modernized the annual staff by using the computer (though I will NEVER completely trust that thing), Jack Orme for helping us when we needed it, and especially Mrs. Linehan for all the long hours of checking layouts and copy, yelling at the class when I was too tired to, and for supporting and encouraging me.

After spending a good part of my junior year in room 12, do I feel it was worth it? I do feel that it was worth all the time and effort I put into it and hopefully the students at BPHS will think so also.

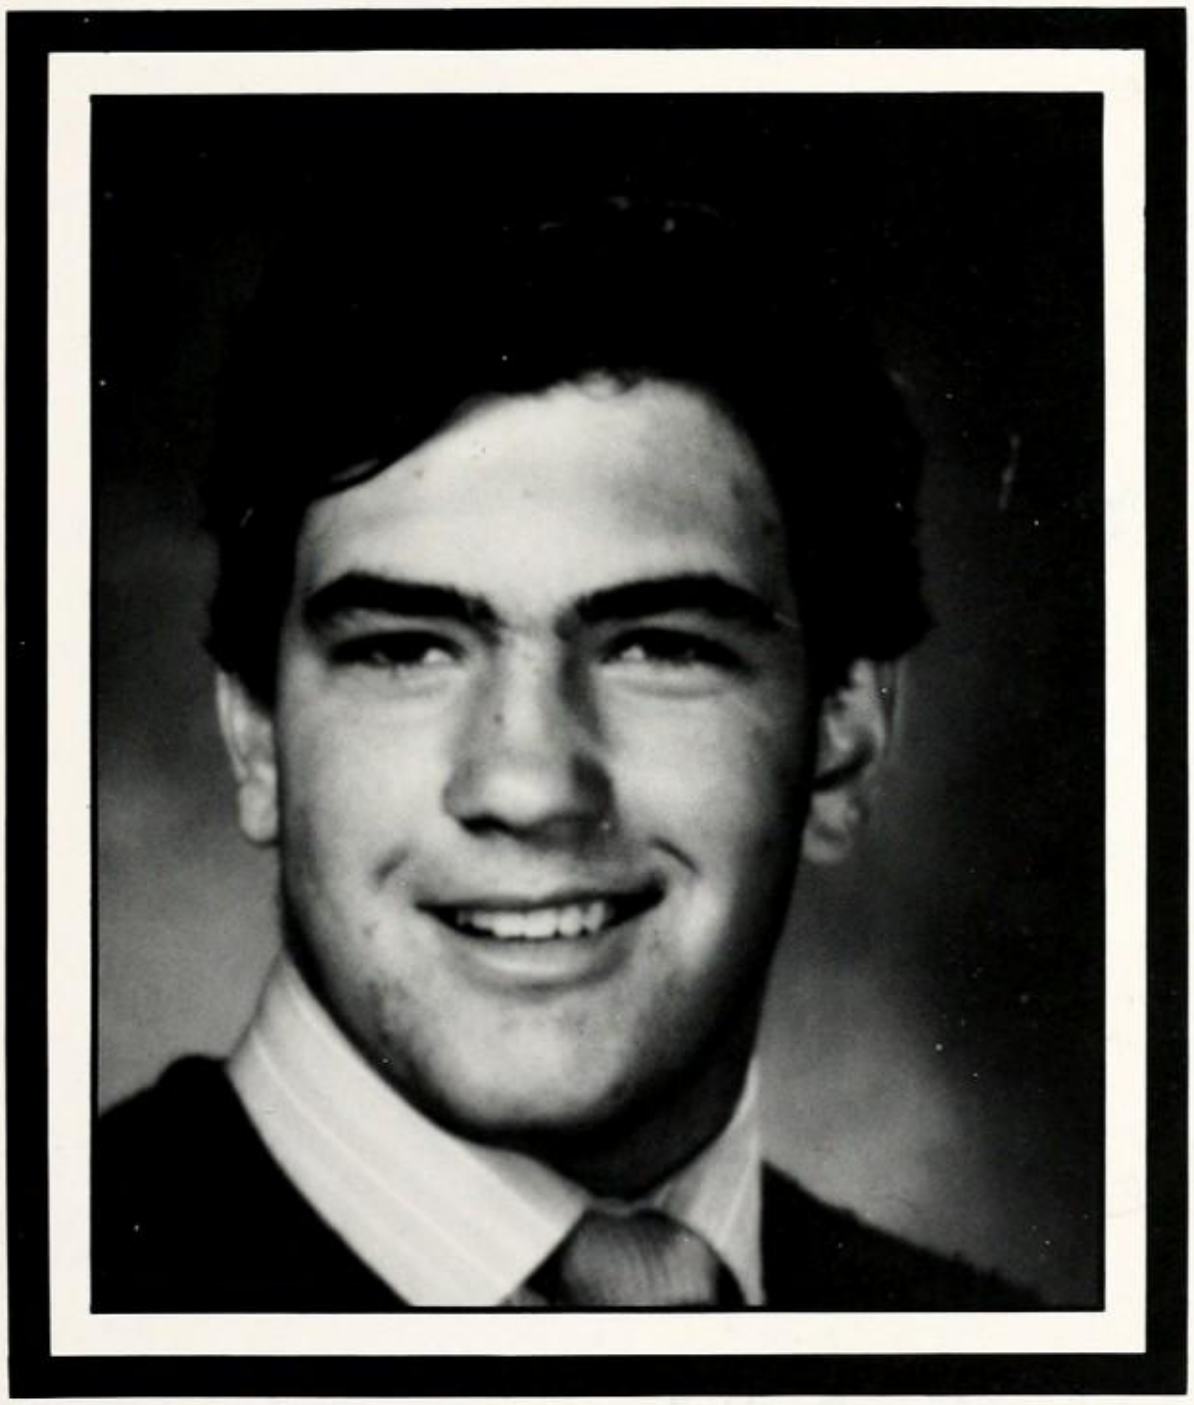
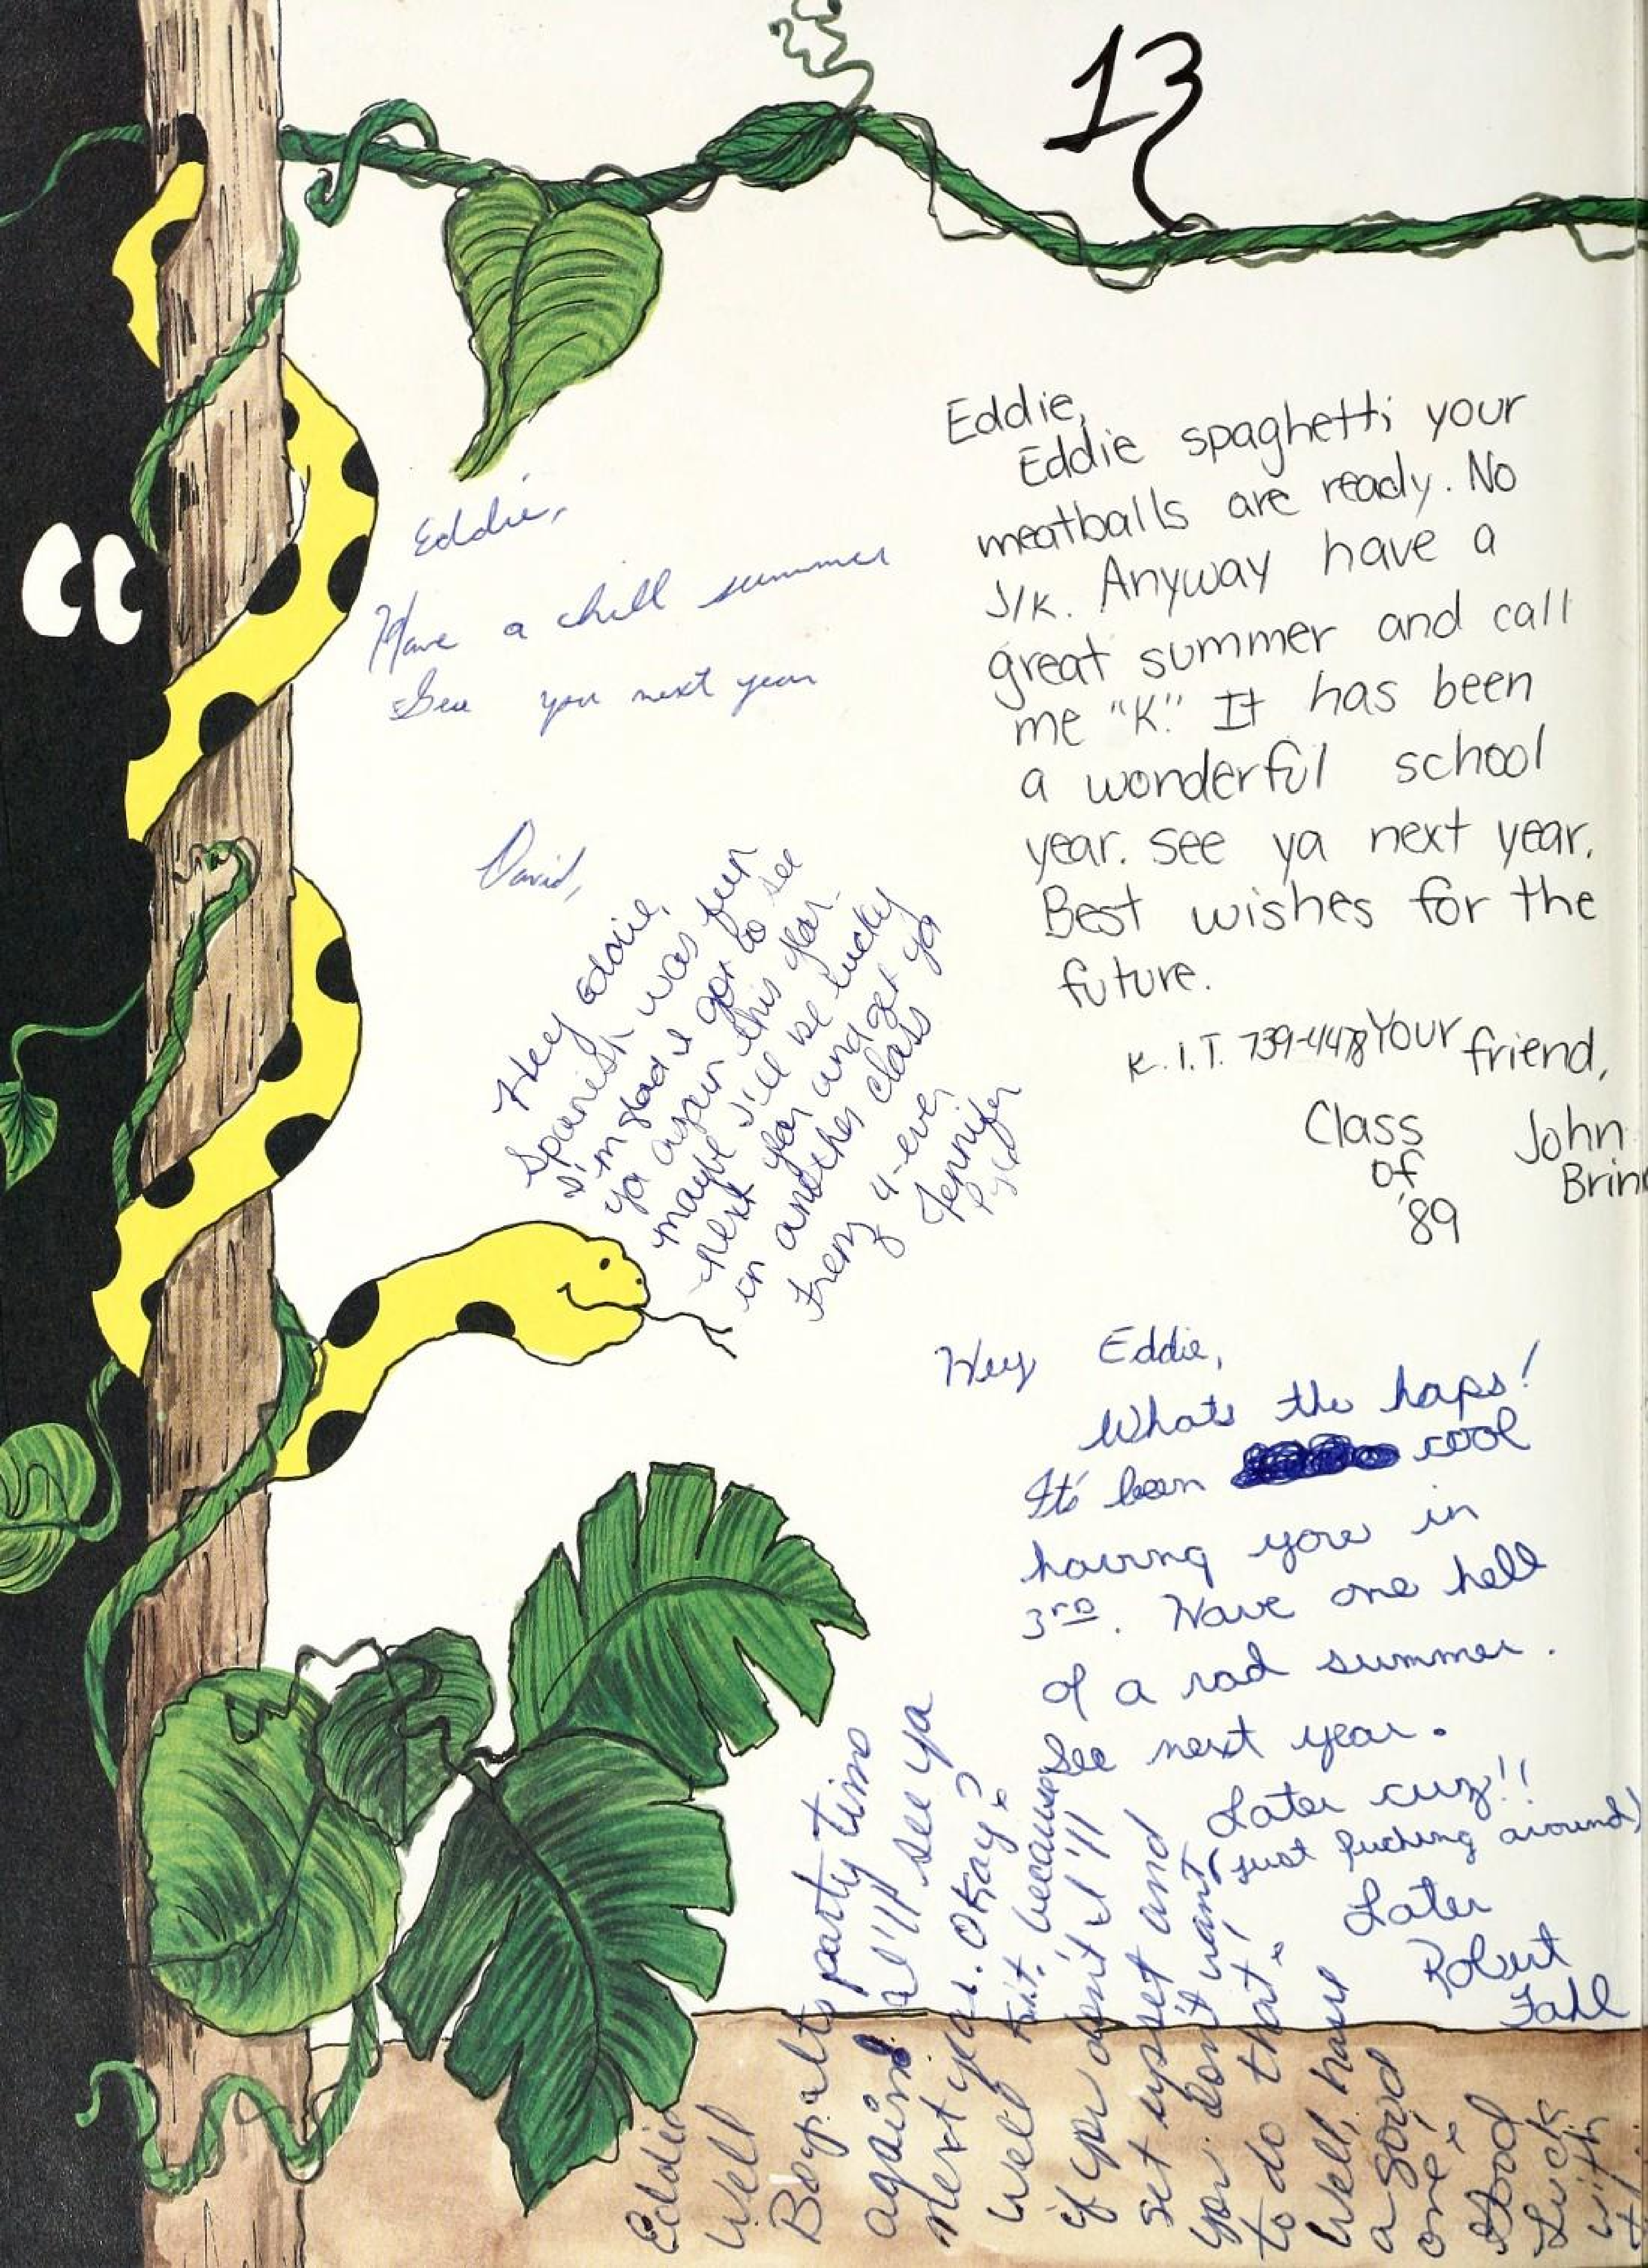
In Memory Of
Ray Austin Arnold



Ray Austin Arnold, a junior, passed away on Wednesday, April 20.

Austin Arnold was known to many at Buena Park High School as a dear friend, successful student and competitive athlete. Though he was taken from us so suddenly, the memory of his smile and laughter will always be with us.

Buena Park High School pays tribute to Austin Arnold for the many lives he touched.



Eddie,
Have a chill summer
See you next year

David,

Hey Eddie,
Spanish was fun
I'm glad I got to see
